

Constitution Group Replies to Rumors

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Supporters of the proposed new constitution replied Sunday to 33 rumors they said had been spread about the proposed document.

Former Gov. Sid McMath, co-chairman of Arkansans for the Constitution of 1970, said in a news conference that so many rumors and falsehoods had been spread about the new constitution that it was becoming difficult to keep up with them.

The new document will be voted on in the November general election.

"The Constitution of 1970 is the most important thing facing the voters of Arkansas," McMath said. "They must not make this decision based upon fiction, based upon half truths, based upon rumors."

Robert W. Meriwether, executive director of the organization, said new rumors were started frequently and that a supplement already was being prepared to the facts sheet.

Meriwether said anyone who will contact the organization may obtain one of the fact sheets.

C. T. Meyer, Jr. Re-elected by Baking Firm

LITTLE ROCK—Charles T. Meyer, Jr., chairman of the executive committee of Meyer's Bakeries, has been re-elected to another term as vice chairman and member of the Board of Governors of the American Bakers Association.

His re-election took place at the four-day annual meeting of the Association this week in New York City.

An active leader in Arkansas civic and state affairs, Meyer also serves on the Board of Directors of the American Management Association, the President's Association, Workmen Bank & Trust Company and the Methodist Children's Home. He is a past president of the Arkansas Bakers Association and has been honored as Arkansas of the Year for his outstanding contributions to various organizations throughout the state.

STEVIE PHYLLIS CATO

Stevie Phyllis Cato, 77, died Sunday in a local hospital. She was a lifelong resident of the Spring Hill area and a member of the Methodist Church.

She is survived by two brothers, Barney and Earl Cato, both of Spring Hill, several nieces and nephews.

Services were Monday at Oakcrest Chapel by the Rev. Connie Robins. Burial in Anderson Cemetery by Oakcrest Funeral Home.

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian Labor Minister Pierre Laporte, 49, is dead, slain by French-Canadian separatists who kidnapped him Oct. 10. Laporte's body was found Saturday night in the trunk of a car.

PARIS (AP) — Prince Zeid El Hussein, great uncle of Jordan's King Hussein, is dead at age 72. The Jordanian Embassy announced his death Sunday. He was brother of King Ali of Hedjaz; King Faisal II, founder of the kingdom of Iraq; and King Abdullah, founder of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Dr. Quincy Wright, scholar in political science and international law, is dead at age 79. Wright, a technical advisor at the Nuremberg trials after World War II, died Saturday.

here. But, in general Kleppe's well-financed and intensive campaign has stressed all around support for the President.

John C. Danforth, Missouri's attorney general, and an underdog campaigner for the Senate, is the principal beneficiary of Nixon's Kansas City campaign appearance. Danforth is challenging Sen. Stuart Symington, rated the favorite as he seeks a fourth term at 69.

Campaigner Nixon also is underscoring his policy in Southeast Asia, and he sought also to counter opposition criticism of administration economic policies, blaming inflation on what he called reckless spending by Democrats.

The economic issue came up Sunday when Nixon met for nearly two hours with six representatives of the Business Council.

ports of various political groups traced at least $386,761 as being channeled into various Senate candidates' D.C. committees.

The true total may be many times that amount. Because of the lack of reporting requirements, some D.C. committees could stay hidden forever.

And, as one Senate aide said, "I gather that every senator here has a committee like these."

The loophole in reporting laws has been recognized for years, but chances of it ever being plugged are slim—mainly because the legislators who use it are the only ones who can close it.

However, the fund-raising groups have become more controversial because of recent bribery charges against former Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md. The indictment, which was dismissed by a judge this month, charged that $24,500 had been routed to Brewster as a bribe from a mail order company lobbyist through a hidden group called the "D.C. Committee for Maryland Education."

Another group, the "D.C. Committee for Montana Progress," was reported to be involved in the Justice Department probe on postal rates. It was set up for Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., a House postal subcommittee chairman.

In a rare step this year, a re-election committee set up in Washington for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, the presidential hopeful, filed a full public report with Congress voluntarily.

Muskie's local treasurer lists $163,000 raised by this group going into October. Many of the contributors are scattered throughout the nation, including such donors as the chairman of the board of IBM.

Labor is pouring some of its largest contributions this fall into a hidden fund-raising group known as the "Harrison A. Williams D.C. Committee."

If he wins, Williams is slated to become chairman of the Senate Labor Committee as a result of the defeat of Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., in a spring primary.

One hidden group for a Senate candidate said it wanted to make everything public—but couldn't find a way under D.C. law.

Mrs. Fred Israel of the "D.C. Humphrey for Senator Committee," which raised more than $40,000 at a cocktail buffet for the 1968 Democratic presidential nominee, said:

"We looked for a way to report it in Washington and there is no way. We wanted to, but we couldn't."

Foreign Ministers Plan Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Foreign ministers' meetings on war-and-peace issues are being arranged for Wednesday and Friday at the United Nations.

The U.N. Security Council is expected to meet Wednesday afternoon with perhaps 14 of the 15 members represented by foreign ministers.

The Big Four foreign ministers, after joining in the council session, will get together again Friday night at a working dinner given by Secretary-General U Thant in his 38th-floor office suite.

Both gatherings are taking place this week because the ministers are attending the General Assembly's 11-day 25th anniversary session, now moving toward a ceremonial close Saturday.

The U.N. charter, which took effect 25 years ago next Saturday, provides that the Security Council "shall hold periodic meetings" to which each country on the council may send a member of its government if it wants.

Diplomatic sources said the council, at Finland's urging, had agreed to hold the first such session in its history on Wednesday. Nepal is the only council member whose foreign minister may not be present.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will be following an annual custom when they have dinner with Thant Friday.

They are expected to discuss the questions of security for Europe, peace for Indochina and a settlement for the Middle East.

identified with a wave of separatist sentiment then rising in Quebec, politicians thought it could be defused with a better deal for the provinces' 5.5 million French-Canadians. They promised equal status for the French language, more federal government jobs for French-speaking Canadians, and were even discussing associate-state status for Quebec.

But in 1964, the front took a harder tack and began to show its revolutionary colors. Two gunshop operators were killed in Montreal by three terrorists after firearms death threats were issued in advance of a visit by Queen Elizabeth to Quebec City, resulting in one of the most awesome security screens ever seen in Canada.

In contrast to the young enthusiasts of the FLQ's first years, one of the gunshop raiders was 38. More men in their 30s became active in the organization in 1966, when it launched a new wave of bombings directed mainly against struck industrial plants.

One was 32-year-old Pierre Vallieres, who was sentenced to life in prison for the bomb death of a 64-year-old woman in 1966. After a long fight he won another trial. Out on bail, he was among the first arrested last Friday after Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau invoked the War Measures Act because of the FLQ kidnapping of British trade commissioner James Cross and Quebec Trade Minister Pierre Laporte.

Terrorists threatened to kill Trudeau if he came to Montreal in 1968 for the city's St. Jean Baptiste Day parade.

Trudeau defied the threats and stayed in the reviewing stand, after other politicians fled during a riotous battle between police and agitators.

Other such battles also were under way. In education, revolutionaries sided with a school board in suburban St. Leonard that cut off funds for English schools. Agitators battled with Italian immigrants who wanted to send their children to English schools.

McGill University lecturer Stanley Gray, also arrested Friday, led a 1968 street march on the university with the aim of making it French-speaking.

Texarkana Theater Man, Youths Charged

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Texarkana police arrested 15 youths, a drive-in theater owner, and a theater ticket-taker Saturday night for violating a newly created city ordinance banning those under 18 from "X" rated movies.

The 15, ranging in ages from 12-17, were released on $34.25 bond. Ray T. Allen, the theater owner, was released on $259.25 bond and the ticket-taker, Mrs. Sible Ann Wittington, was released on $109.25 bond.

The raid, which took police about two hours, was the first under an ordinance passed by the city Sept. 8. The ordinance prohibits those under 18 from viewing "R" or "X" rated movies and prohibits showing previews for such movies during "G" rated movies.

Playing at the theater was a double-feature, "The Man from Orgy," and "Female Animal." An advertisement in a Texarkana newspaper described one of the features as having a "hay loft seduction that may stand as one of the more rousing sex scenes in recent permissive years."

police to Laporte's body in a Montreal suburb Saturday night said he was "executed" because the government refused to comply.

While refusing to free the 23 men demanded by the kidnappers, the government offered to parole five of them and also promised the kidnappers safe conduct for themselves to Cuba or Algeria if Cross and Laporte were returned safe. After Laporte's body was found, Trudeau's government announced that the offer of safe conduct to Cross's kidnappers still stood.

Police released the text Sunday night of a letter from Cross reporting that he was "alive and in good health." But he warned: "The only danger for my life is if the police find out where I am and want to intervene. The FLQ will not give up and I will be the first dead."

"The authorities will never find the place where I am held in captivity. I am a prisoner like the FLQ members and prisoners in jail."

The letter and an FLQ communique were found in a church Sunday.

Trudeau went on television Sunday night for the second time in 18 hours and vowed that his government will foil any attempts "to destroy our nation." "We must expect that these vicious men may attempt again to shake our will in the days ahead," the prime minister said.

Drug Alert Session

DR. J.E. DUSENBERRY

On Tuesday, October 20th at 7:30 p.m. the Kiwanis Club of Hope, Gordon Renshaw, of Unity Baptist Church of Hope, Chairman of the Operation Drug Alert Committee, will present its third session in the Hempstead County Courtroom.

The title of next Tuesday's program is "Our Response to the Drug Abuse Problem."

The speaker will be Dr. James E. Dusenberry of the University of Arkansas School of Pharmacy who is Chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Drug Abuse, and serves on The Council of Children and Youth.

Even though the attendance at last Tuesday's meeting filled the Courtroom to overflowing and chairs had to be placed within the bar, the general public is not only invited but urged to attend this third session on one of the most discussed problems of the day.

Congress May Uphold Veto on Ad Spending

ATLANTA (AP) — Congress may uphold President Nixon's veto of the bill limiting campaign spending on radio and television, the head of the National Association of Broadcasters said today, "if the industry acts with unanimity and strength."

"That would be not only an important achievement in making the Congress aware of the bitter feelings such discriminatory legislation arouses among broadcasters," said Vincent T. Wasilewski, "but it may also be something of a milestone in restoring our own confidence in our ability to have an effective voice in Washington."

Drug Alert Subject of Club Meet

At the luncheon meeting of the Hope Rotary Club last Friday in the Twon and Country a special guest, the Rev. Gordon Renshaw, told the club about Operation Drug Alert, a community-wide effort to combat the drug problem. "The evidence makes it clear that this is a problem everywhere and it is spreading," he said.

Introduced by Judge Finis Odom, the speaker told that education of youth and adults alike was needed if this baffling problem is to be solved. Preparation is now underway to have an educational program on this subject in our schools by next year. This is especially important in view of the fact that many young people are tricked into taking some form of narcotics the first time and are, thus, innocent victims of what can affect them and their offspring up to the fourth generation.

Two Rotary Clubs in Texarkana were represented at the local meeting by Rotarians James Hannah Ward and Mason Andres. President C. R. "Dick" Moore welcomed all in attendance and had charge of the business meeting.

Child on LSD, Father Jailed

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — An 18-month-old boy was treated at a hospital and his father was jailed Sunday after the child swallowed LSD tablets, police said.

Leroy Carmichael, 22, told officials at a hospital that his son, Troy, accidentally picked up the drug while the Carmichaels visited friends, police said.

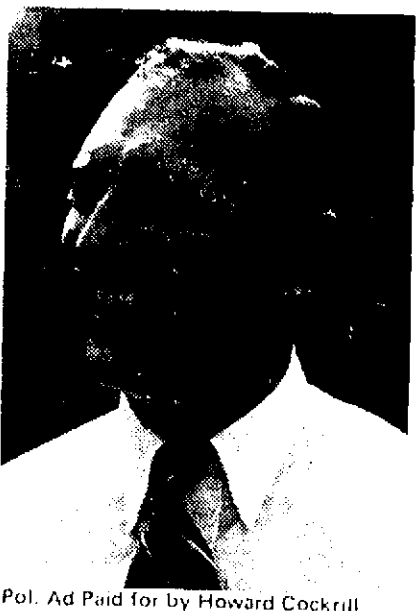

The child was reported in fair condition after he was given chemicals to neutralize the hallucinogenic drug.

Carmichael was charged with child neglect and was released on $501 bond.

PRESIDENT MARY ANDREWS - MAYOR FRANK DOUGLAS

PROCLAMATION

FOR NATIONAL BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK

WHEREAS working women constitute 26 million of the Nation's working force, and are constantly striving to serve their communities, their states and their nation in civic and cultural programs, and

WHEREAS major goals of business and professional women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community; to further friendship with women throughout the world, and

WHEREAS all of us are proud of their leadership in these many fields of endeavor.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANK DOUGLAS, Mayor of the City of Hope, Arkansas, by the authority vested in me, do hereby proclaim October 18 - 24, 1970 as

sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., and urge all citizens in Hope, Arkansas, all civic and fraternal groups, all educational associations, all news media and other community organizations to join in this salute to working women by encouraging and world. Besides, many women prefer being homemakers. This is their chosen role and a very rewarding one. Those who don't should make certain they find a husband who agrees on their career aims. A woman shouldn't blame a man for her unhappy state if she knew how he felt before marriage.

A woman's way to identity and equality in bed with her husband is not to shout it from the roof tops, to picket, or punish him by denial. It comes only through mutual admiration, consideration and communication. I am happily married. Until recently I held a full time position. Now, by my own decision, I'm working part time because we have a little girl who needs me. Do I miss my "career?" No—I have a better one at home. And somehow I feel very sorry for the unhappy Feminist. —GLAD TO BE A WOMAN

Dear Helen: Women are not downtrodden. We are the moral pace-setters, the strengtheners of family ties—and, because we are stronger, we can also have outside careers without falling apart. Because we are "special" we enjoy special consideration from men. Even a bit of pampering. Seems to me the Liberation Front is fighting to give away our pedestals. Our two teen-age daughters agree with me. —Mrs. B.

Dear Helen: I'm very content with the way things are now, man-womanwise, and I think this goes for most other girls. I look forward to marriage and having a man who will keep me secure and happy—as I plan to keep HIM. These Women's Libersators act as if they have the support of the whole female sex. Ridiculous! All for men, say Aye! —AYE, AYE, AYE

HELEN HELP US!

WOMEN'S LIB MOST POPULAR FALL TOPIC

Dear Helen: Summation time again. What topics hit the popularity button this fall? Which of the burning questions in your column brought most response from readers? —A.T.

Dear A.: Women's Lib won by a country mile.

And, not surprisingly, ladies against total liberation outnumbered Equality-Now gals seven to one.

While most women agree that job discrimination should end and certain state laws need modernizing, the majority still "enjoy being a girl." What they really want is the best of two worlds—and the smart little feminine creatures among us manage this very well, thank you.

Here is a sampling of letters: Dear Helen: Perhaps it is as you say, Helen, "Libbies" beef up the storm troop angle for publicity purposes, so that the movement will get enough attention to bring about needed reforms. Bra-burning and picketing all-male bars DO hook the audience. Then, when you hear these same wild ones on talk shows, they sound quite sensible. But I still don't like their "down with men" attitude!

I think men are the greatest things that ever happened to women, and they're very easy to work with, for, or around. I can't say the same about women bosses. In fact, if I had to work with certain Lib types I've met, I might end up opening a vein—or theirs. —LIBERAL BUT NOT LIBERATED

Dear Helen: Though it's true that a few complaints voiced by Feminists are justified, so many, to my mind, are outrageous. A woman has a choice—to be a homemaker, have a career, or a combination. What man has this choice? Feminists may counter with "What man in his right mind would be a homemaker?" My answer: House and family may entail long hours, but the stress and competition cannot be compared with the business

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Hogan's Heroes," now in their sixth year in Col. Klink's camp, have been prisoners of war for a longer time than the United States was involved in fighting World War II.

When the series started, the question was whether a comedy series based on something as grim as life in a German prisoner-of-war camp could succeed without offending. Obviously it could.

"Hogan's Heroes" is total fantasy. Each week, the audience permits itself to believe for one half hour that there could be a merry band of war prisoners who could tunnel an ant hill under the camp, enter and leave at will, use a converted coffee pot for radio transmissions to and from England. It must be believed there could be people like the principals—the all-wise, casual Hogan; vain, glib Klink and the comic strip character, Sgt. Schultz.

Every now and then there has been a minor change in the cast but the basic recipe never changes. Each week the smart prisoners outwit their ridiculous strutting captors, the Nazis.

On Sunday night, stars Bob Crane (Hogan) and Werner Klemperer (Klink) wound up a two-part episode in which Hogan and company personally succeeded in persuading Hitler —on the telephone—to send out an invasion fleet. Word that it had been sunk was delivered as a comedy line accompanied by the sound of laughter on the laugh track.

A-State in 38-17 Win Saturday

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University came out on top, 38-17, in a throwing contest here Saturday night.

With the Indians' two top running backs on the sidelines because of injuries, ASU Coach Bennie Ellender had to resort to a passing game led by junior quarterback James Hamilton. Hamilton responded with 19 completions out of 35 attempts for 293 yards. He flipped four touchdown passes.

The Indians led 17-0 at the half but took a 31-10 third quarter advantage on a 72-yard pass to flanker Chel Douthit and a 42-yard scoring toss to end Steve Lockart.

Douthit caught 10 of Hamilton's passes to tie a school record. He also set a new yardage mark with 188.

Louisiana Tech got off to a 3-0 start on a 25-yard field goal to put ASU behind for the first time this year. But the Tribe roared back when Kearney Black returned the kickoff 48 yards to set up an Indian touchdown.

Tailback Johnny Carr, filling in for injured Calvin Harrell, scored from one yard out and Bobby Gentry added the extra point to give ASU a 7-3 lead. Late in the first quarter, Hamilton tossed his first touchdown pass to Douthit from five yards out and the Tribe led 14-3.

ASU played without the services of the Southland Conference's top two rushers of last season. Harrell was injured a week ago and fullback Marshall Walls was hurt in the second period and did not return to the game.

The game was the Indians' second highest point production of the year. The Tribe scored 53 against Wichita State to open the season.

ASU eliminated costly fumbles that have slowed the offense in recent games. They fumbled only twice and lost one.

The Indians, ranked number one in The Associated Press small college poll, are now 5-0.

Hybrid Red Wolves Exist in Hempstead

HOPE—There are some indications that a population of hybrid red wolves may exist in Southwest Arkansas. Phil Gibson, University of Arkansas researcher working in conjunction with the Commission in a study of wolves and feral dogs, reports collecting wolf specimens near the Commission's Hope Quail Area showing wolf-like characteristics.

"I am not suggesting a pure population of red wolves exists in Hempstead County," reports Gibson, "but it is probable that the population here is genetically part wolf. For that reason, it is worth preserving."

The red wolf is on the list of animals threatened with extinction and is protected by Game and Fish regulations. However, whether a true population of red wolf exists in the state is a moot question.

Gibson has suggested that two adult wolves be taken from the quail area every other year for the next 10 years to determine if the population is becoming more coyote-like or remaining stable in that portion of the state.

Rates Irish Equal of Ohio State

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Last week it was Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty who lashed Ohio State No. 1 and Notre Dame No. 1-A. Now it's Minnesota's Murray Warmath and Missouri's Dave Devine who rate them as close.

"You sort of wonder if they are No. 1 when you come in here, but they are," said Warmath after dropping a 28-8 decision to top-rated Ohio State Saturday. "We couldn't get the ball away from them in the first quarter."

"I don't want to get into a No. 1 hassle, but if there's anybody better than Notre Dame I haven't seen them yet," said Devine, whose team actually led the Irish 7-3 in the third period before bowing 24-7.

For the time being, though, Ohio State and Notre Dame will have to settle for being No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in The Associated Press College football poll. Second-ranked Texas, also one of 11 unbeaten and untied major teams, didn't play Saturday.

Fourth-ranked Mississippi did, however, and the Rebels dropped a shocking 30-14 decision to revenge-bent Southern Mississippi, seething from a 69-7 slaughter a year ago.

The four other Top Ten Teams with unbeaten records came through with victories. Fifth-ranked and once-tied Nebraska upended Kansas 41-20 and took over the Big Eight lead, No. 6 Michigan outlasted Michigan State 34-20, seventh-ranked Air Force whipped Navy 26-3 and Auburn, No. 8, trounced 16th-ranked Georgia Tech 31-7.

Stanford, ranked ninth, wallowed Washington State 63-16 as Jim Plunkett set a major college career total offense mark. Tenth-ranked Arkansas was idle.

Other teams with perfect records are Arizona State, Dartmouth, San Diego State, Toledo and Yale.

John Brockington, who rambled for 187 yards, and Rex Kern each scored twice in the first 21 minutes as Ohio State shot ahead of Minnesota.

"That first quarter (21-0) was as fine as we've looked," said Coach Woody Hayes. "It was our best running game. I hate to admit it, but I think we got tired after that."

Joe Theismann, bothered by Missouri's defensive line, speeded up his delivery and rallied Notre Dame over the Tigers with touchdown passes to Tom Gatewood and Ed Gulyas.

Southern Mississippi kept Archie Manning—30 of 56 for 341 yards—and company off the scoreboard after the first period and posted a memorable upset as Rick Donegan directed a fired-up offense and Willie Heidelberg galloped for a pair of 11-yard touchdowns.

Nebraska, down 20-10, toppled Kansas on the passing (two TDs) and running (two more) of quarterback Van Brownson, making his first start of the season.

Billy Taylor's third touchdown snapped a 13-all halftime stalemate and triggered Michigan past stubborn arch-rival Michigan State. Brian Bream's school record 214 rushing yards and two TDs paced Air Force past Navy, although Mike McCallen set a career pass completion record for the Midgies with 308.

Auburn's Pat Sullivan had his greatest, passing for 312 yards and running for 42 as the Tigers ripped Georgia Tech. And Stanford's Plunkett passed and ran for 275 yards, bringing his total offense to 6,630 yards and erasing the 6,568 set last year by Steve Ramsey of North Texas State.

Among Second Ten teams, No. 11 Southern California held off Washington 28-25, No. 12 Arizona State downed Brigham Young 27-3 and Oklahoma intercepted four passes to turn back 13th-ranked Colorado 25-13.

Tennessee, ranked 14th, swiped eight Alabama passes and gave Bill Battle a 24-0 victory over his former coach Bear Bryant. No. 15 Louisiana State made two first-half touchdowns stand up for a 14-7 triumph over Kentucky but Texas Tech, No. 17, fell to Mississippi State 20-16.

Vikings Lay It on the Cowboys

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
They all came to see Joe Kapp's highly-touted arm and went home talking about Fran Tarkenton's highly talented feet.

Kapp's debut as starting quarterback for Boston turned into a bust Sunday as the scrambling Tarkenton ruined the Patriots' T-Party by directing a 16-0 New York Giant victory.

"We had the opportunities but I didn't take advantage of them," said a disappointed Kapp, who last started with Minnesota in the 1970 Super Bowl.

Tarkenton's foot-loose antics scrambled the Boston defense, offsetting the hard-charging Patriots' line while he riddled them with short, screen passes. He passed only 14 times, completing eight, for 102 yards in wind-harassed Harvard Stadium at Cambridge, Mass.

The Minnesota Vikings kaye-oded Dallas with a ferocious attack that left the Cowboys reeling on the end of a 54-13 score—their worst defeat ever—in another National Football League game.

Detroit and Denver, who lost for the first time this season last week, got back on the winning road with victories Sunday. Detroit blasted Cleveland 41-24 and Denver turned back Atlanta 24-10.

Pittsburgh beat Houston 7-3 in a defensive war; New Orleans tied San Francisco 20-20; Los Angeles whipped Green Bay 31-21; San Diego downed Chicago 20-7; Miami belted Buffalo 33-14; St. Louis cut down the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20; Baltimore avenged its Super Bowl defeat by beating the New York Jets 29-22 and Kansas City defeated Cincinnati 27-19.

Coach Clive Rush of Boston said the Patriots' game plan was to stop Tarkenton's screen passes.

"We just didn't do it," Rush said. Kapp completed 10 of 22 passes. He also carried eight times for 41 yards, tops among Boston rushers. The Giants' defense held fullback Jim Nance to a mere 14 yards.

Coach Tom Landry of Dallas was philosophical about the Cowboys' biggest licking since their inception in 1960.

Ed Sharockman, a defensive back, set the tone of the game as he ran back two touchdowns on a deflected punt and an intercepted pass and set up another with an interception in Minnesota's first half.

Bobby Howfield kicked a 51-yard field goal and Pete Liske pitched a six-yard scoring pass in the final period to break open a close game and help the Broncos beat the Falcons.

Bill Munson fired two touchdown passes and Mike Weger scored another on an interception in a 2½-minute period that shot Detroit into a runaway 38-14 halftime lead.

Terry Bradshaw unfurled a 67-yard TD pass on the first play of the second quarter for the only touchdown of the game and a victory for the Steelers.

Clarence Williams swiped a Bart Starr pass in the closing minutes and shot 65 yards for a touchdown that nailed down Los Angeles' victory over the Packers.

John Hadl's two touchdown passes to Gary Garrison within a minute of the third quarter pulled out the San Diego triumph over the reeling Bears, who lost their third straight.

Two pass interceptions led to a pair of Miami touchdowns and a fumble recovery set up one of Gary Yeapremian's four field goals.

MacArthur Lane hit paydirt four times—three times rushing and the other on a reception—in the St. Louis victory.

Johnny Unitas whipped Baltimore into a 17-0 lead within 5½ minutes of the first period and the Colts hung on to beat the Jets, their conquerors in the 1968 Super Bowl.

Injured quarterback Len Dawson came off the bench to spark Kansas City to a comeback victory over the fired-up Bengals.

Official record and the 621 miles per hour clocking was washed out.

Then, with darkness gathering over the 10-mile long race track, the natural-gas powered rocket car made two more runs but failed by just four m.p.h. to break the land speed record.

SOMEWHERE ALONG the line, Harvard's Pete Varney lost his helmet—but it doesn't matter. He scored this touchdown without it.

Tarkenton Kapp Are Scramblers

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) —

Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants and Joe Kapp of the Boston Patriots may not especially like the tag, but they're scrambling quarterbacks, two of the best in the National Football League.

Tarkenton and Kapp matched their scrambling with the Giants' star coming out on top Sunday as New York fashioned its first shutout since 1961 by whipping the Patriots 16-0.

Tarkenton passed 28 yards to Clifton McNeil for one touchdown and helped set up Pete Gogolak for three field goals from 14, 18 and 22 yards out as the Giants humbled the Patriots with a determined defense.

Kapp, who played out his option with the Minnesota Vikings and signed with the Patriots early this month, made his first start since the Super Bowl. He moved Boston deep into New York territory three times, but was unable to put any points on the board.

"This was not a natural day," Tarkenton said. "It was the toughest wind I've thrown against in my 10 years as a pro. The ball acted like a knuckleball in baseball. We had to throw out a lot of our pass plays."

"The wind was a big factor, but it was blowing out there for them, too," Kapp said. "We had a fine game plan, but we didn't execute, partly because of the wind, but mainly because of the New York Giants."

Tarkenton completed 8 of 14 passes for 103 yards, mostly on screen or short tosses as he offset Boston's hard rush. He carried four times for 16 yards.

Kapp completed 10 of 22 passes for 88 yards and had one interception, after the Patriots, trailing 10-0, had picked up a first down at the New York 18 in the third period. He carried eight times for 41 yards in leading Boston ground-gainers.

"Our defense played a great game," New York Coach Alex Webster said.

Bruins Stay Undefeated in Hockey

The National Hockey League season is barely one week old and only one team—the Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins—remain undefeated.

And the way Bobby Orr and Company are going, they look like they plan to stay that way for quite a while, too.

The Bruins won their fourth straight Sunday, whipping Vancouver 5-3. That gave Boston 25 goals in the four victories—an average of better than six per game.

Boston's big gun so far has been Phil Esposito, who didn't manage a point Sunday but had five goals and five assists in the Bruins' first three starts. Esposito set an NHL scoring record with 126 points two years ago and was runner-up in the scoring race with 99 points last year.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Sunday, New York tagged Montreal with its first loss, blanking the Canadiens 1-0. Philadelphia tripped Toronto 4-2, Minnesota edged Detroit 2-1, Pittsburgh tied Buffalo 1-1 and St. Louis and Chicago battled to a 2-2 standoff.

In Saturday's action, Montreal bombed Chicago 6-2, New York ripped Toronto 6-2, Detroit edged Minnesota 3-2, St. Louis dropped Buffalo 4-1, Los Angeles downed the renamed California Golden Seals 6-1, and Philadelphia and Pittsburgh played to a scoreless tie.

Johnny McKenzie was Boston's big man Sunday against the expansionist Canucks. The scrappy right winger fired two goals and assisted on two others.

It was no one-way game though as the young Canucks outshot the Bruins 41-39 and kept the pressure on Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers all the way.

Goalie Ed Giacomin, who has adopted a face mask this season, played his second consecutive shutout for New York and Walt Tkaczuk's third-period goal was enough for the Rangers to beat the Canadiens.

It was the first loss after four victories for Montreal.

Philadelphia roared from behind with three third-period goals to overtake Toronto.

Bobby Clarke's goal 15 seconds into the final stanza knotted the score and then Andre Lacroix scored a pair seven minutes apart to give the Flyers the victory.

Goalie Cesare Maniago kicked out 40 shots and Minnesota nipped Detroit on a third-period goal by Danny O'Shea.

Defenseman Dunc McCallum's goal with 4:54 left to play, ended seven periods of scoreless frustration for Pittsburgh and allowed the Penguins to tie Buffalo.

Jimmy Roberts' second period goal gave St. Louis its tie with Chicago. Bob Wall had the Blues' other goal while Pat Stapleton and Gerry Pinder connected for Chicago.

Scott Scores 58 Points in 1st Two Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Charlie Scott scored 58 points in his first two games in the American Basketball Association—but the rookie pro from North Carolina thinks he can improve.

Scott led the Virginia Squires to a 103-88 victory over the New York Nets Sunday with 29 points and 12 rebounds. On Saturday night he also tallied 29 points in leading the Squires over Pittsburgh.

"I'm not satisfied with my start," confided the 6-foot-6 Scott after Sunday's game against the Nets. "I think I will have better judgment on shooting, passing off and getting position for rebounds after I learn the league."

Indiana made it three straight by defeating Texas 134-113, Kentucky whipped Carolina 121-115 and the Florida beat Pittsburgh 125-115 in Sunday's other ABA games.

In Sunday's only National Basketball Association contest the Boston Celtics bowled over Portland's Trail Blazers 133-115. In Saturday's ABA action Virginia blitzed Pittsburgh 133-116 and Kentucky downed Denver 109-103 and, in NBA play, Milwaukee overhauled Atlanta 107-98, Chicago nipped New York 99-96, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 118-116 in overtime, San Diego belted Buffalo 102-93, Philadelphia crushed Cincinnati 123-105, Seattle ripped Boston 126-114, Detroit slipped by Phoenix 110-107 and San Francisco clobbered Cleveland 128-108.

Kentucky rookie Dan Issel scored 30 points Sunday in leading the Colonels over the Cougars. Exactly half of the 30 came in the last quarter as the Colonels held off a rally by Carolina.

Bill Keller with 32 and Roger Brown with 30 combined to pace the unbeaten Pacers over the Chaparrals. Mack Calvin threw in 41 points to pace the Floridians over Pittsburgh. John Brisker scored 44 for the losing Condors.

Denis Hulme of New Zealand and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., are race drivers who collect other things besides titles and money.

Hulme likes antiques and has quite a few of them in the home he maintains in England. He also has a room full of track memorabilia, not the least of which is the Johnson's Wax trophy he got for winning the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series in 1968.

The 34-year-old KeeWill will add another Can-Am trophy to his collection later this year. Hulme clinched the title in the million dollar series Sunday by winning the ninth race in the 10-event series at Laguna Seca, near Monterey, Calif.

Hulme also collects American dollars. He'll pick up the champion's share of $50,000 from the Can-Am bonus fund to add to the $87,000 he has taken from the race-by-race prize fund.

Petty, 33, collects time pieces. One of the bonus awards to winners of races at Martinsville Va., Speedway is a handsome grandfather clock.

The Plymouth-driving Petty won his ninth race at Martinsville Sunday. In addition to the check for $8,775, one of the items stowed carefully away in his tow truck was his ninth grandfather clock. Since he has run out of space for clocks, this one will go to a crew member.

The Can-Am at Monterey and the 262.5-mile stock car go at Martinsville highlighted a light weekend of auto racing. And since Hulme and Petty were heavily favored to win, the races went according to form.

Hulme, winning the third title in a row for Team McLaren, led the Can-Am from start to finish but crossed the finish line only 1.2 seconds ahead of England's Jackie Oliver. The latter was driving a new version of the Autocost T122, a machine that uses lightweight titanium in its body structure.

Petty had considerably less trouble in winning his 17th stock car race of the season, leading all but 20 of the 500 laps over the .525-mile Martinsville oval. He finished the race in a lap by himself and also set a track record of 72.235 miles per hour.

Demonstration for Militant at University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About 150 persons demonstrated on the University of Arkansas campus Thursday, calling for the release of Angela Davis, the black militant who was arrested Tuesday in New York.

The 40-minute demonstration was held at the Vol Walker Library.

Miss Davis had been the object of a two-month search following an attempted prisoner escape in San Rafael, Calif., in which four persons, including a judge, were killed. Miss Davis, who was one of the FBI's "most wanted" fugitives, was accused of purchasing the guns used in the escape attempt.

Several speakers at the Fayetteville rally said Miss Davis was arrested only because she was a "black Communist militant."

Dr. Tom Kennedy, an assistant history professor, called for a fair trial and elimination of conditions that produce militants.

Not a Good Word for Cigarettes

Smokers, You Pollute the Air

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

What do you think is the major source of pollution of the air in American lungs? Automobiles? Factories? No! Cigarettes win by a country mile.

If you are serious about fighting air pollution, your first target should be cigarettes. I am distressed at the antipollution militant, polluting his lungs with cigarette smoke.

The people who have the most medical problems from air pollution are cigarette smokers. Nonsmokers in the same environment are less likely to be affected.

The largest amount of air pollution is caused by carbon monoxide. This is also the major pollutant from cigarettes. The cigarette smoker gets more carbon monoxide in his lungs than is caused by the air in the most polluted city in the United States on its worst day. The effects of cigarettes and air pollution are additive; i.e., one is added to the other. Cigarettes also release other pollutants, such as tars, and there are pollutants in contaminated air other than carbon monoxide.

The build-up of carbon monoxide from cigarettes is associated with increased arterial disease. It also decreases the ability of the blood to carry oxygen. When this is severe enough it affects the function of the brain—leading to mental confusion.

Carbon monoxide destroys the chemical in the eye necessary for night vision. If you smoke three cigarettes in a row, night vision can decrease 25 per cent.

Cigarettes, through their nicotine content, stimulate the heart and circulation in an unhealthy fashion. This tends to offset the beneficial effects of a good exercise program and decrease the working capacity of the heart. They also stimulate irregularities of the heart and anyone with extra beats or "flip flops" should not smoke.

Often when a cigarette smoker quits smoking, his sexual capacity will increase.

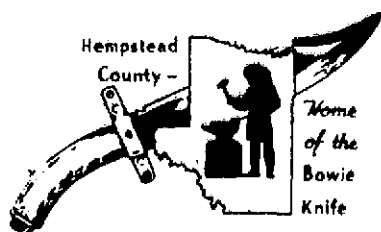

It is difficult to find anything good that cigarettes do for you. Since they are a source of air pollution, I am convinced they should not be allowed in crowded public places. After all, over half of the public no longer smokes. Why should this nonsmoking majority be subjected to the unpleasant experience? I don't wish to deny the cigarette smoker's right to poor health, but it seems reasonable his rights should stop where the other person's rights begin.

Dear Doctor—Why do you gain weight when you stop smoking? Is there any way to prevent this?

Dear Reader—Tobacco is a poison (it is even used in drinking water to kill worms in chickens). Whenever a poison is removed, the tissues are healthier and function more efficiently. The metabolism is lower in most people after they stop smoking cigarettes. These people use their calories more efficiently. Then some people eat more to satisfy their oral urge or nervous habit. The way

Voting Rights Law Before High Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1970 federal voting rights law went before the Supreme Court today at a hearing putting the powers of Congress against the prerogatives of the states.

In the balance are perhaps 17 million votes, enough to swing a presidential election or change the composition of Congress.

On one side was the U.S. government arguing the constitutionality of the law's principal provisions, on the other the states of Oregon, Texas, Arizona and Idaho arguing Congress had exceeded its authority.

The law, signed June 22 by President Nixon, gives the vote to 18-year-olds, bans literacy tests in all states for five years, abolishes residence requirements of more than 30 days to vote for president and requires all states to provide absentee ballots.

Although Nixon and several Justice Department lawyers have expressed misgivings about the 18-year-old provision, the government decided to defend it against suits brought in the high court by Oregon and Texas.

The three other provisions were advocated by the administration before Congress.

The government is suing Arizona, which challenges the abolition of literacy tests, and Idaho, which requires 60 days of residence in the state to vote for president and which has no absentee ballot procedures for ex-residents.

The court is giving the law fast consideration, indicating a decision may be reached within a few months.

The law lowered the voting age from 21 to 18 in 46 states and the District of Columbia and from 20 to 18 in Hawaii, Georgia, Kentucky and Alaska already permitted 18-year-olds to vote.

The administration estimated about 10 million voters would be added to the electorate under the law. The provision applies to all elections and primaries held on or after next Jan. 1—unless the court declares it invalid.

The literacy test suspension covers 12 states and part of a 13th, North Carolina. The government estimates more than 1.9 million people in these states have been unable to qualify to vote because of their illiteracy.

Weather in State to Be Cooler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The weather in Arkansas will be stable for the next few days, with the U.S. Weather Bureau predicting cool temperatures, partly cloudy skies and the chance of some rain.

Tuesday the temperatures will rise somewhat as the sun pops through the clouds, but there is a chance of showers, mainly in the east Wednesday.

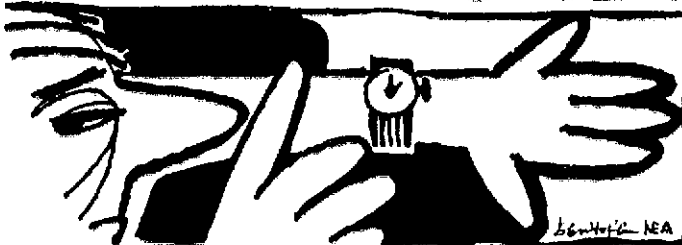

The forecast is a continuation of the weather picture in Arkansas for several days. Temperatures have been cool and there has been light rainfall recorded in most sections of the state.

The highs Sunday ranged from 51 at Harrison to 66 at Little Rock.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville 49, Harrison 46, Jonesboro 53, Pine Bluff 55, Texarkana 53, El Dorado 54, Memphis 53, Little Rock 51 and Fort Smith 53.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a.m. today included .07 of an inch of rain at Fayetteville, .26 at Harrison, a trace at Jonesboro, a trace at Pine Bluff, a trace at Texarkana, .08 at El Dorado, .23 at Memphis and a trace at Fort Smith.

Hidden Fund Raising Groups Give Thousands to U.S. Senators

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of dollars in campaign money have been given to U.S. senators through hidden fund-raising groups set up in Washington, where a loophole lets the lawmakers keep the contributions secret.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and his GOP counterpart, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, head the list of candidates using the hidden committees to help bankroll their re-election races this year.

Labor groups are making large donations to another Washington committee set up for Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., who is in line to become chairman of the Senate Labor Committee if he wins.

In political circles, the hidden campaign groups are known as "D.C. committees."

The District of Columbia—in contrast to the home states of most senators—has no laws requiring public disclosure of money raised and spent for candidates.

As a result, dozens of senators and congressmen have "D.C. committees" set up here to raise campaign funds, particularly from lobbyists.

Names of the hidden committees came to light in a study of the detailed list of donations that other political groups, such as those for labor organizations or industry lobbies, must file with Congress.

The records show groups representing restaurants, coal, cable TV, steelworkers, teamsters, shipping and savings associations are among the contributors to "D.C. committees."

Even the Republican and Democratic national campaign chests have funneled large chunks of money to their candidates through these groups.

Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., locked in a tough battle this fall, has at least four "D.C. committees" set up to get money from the GOP. His Democratic foe, former Gov. Philip H. Hoff, has at least two committees here, also.

Among others using the device are:

Sens. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M.; Frank E. Moss, D-Utah; William Proxmire, D-Wis.; Ralph T. Smith, R-Ill.; Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, and former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, running for the Senate from Minnesota.

Many of the D.C. committees have raised as much as $50,000 or more. But few are willing to tell.

Cambodians Hit Stiff Resistance

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian troops ran into stiff resistance Sunday in an operation to reopen 20 miles of important highway south of Phnom Penh.

A military spokesman said government troops ambushed a North Vietnamese unit Saturday night and killed seven of them. But on Sunday, he said, 15 government soldiers were wounded in a clash 25 miles south of the capital on Highway 2.

Three battalions are trying to drive south along the highway to link up with other government units that are supposed to push north from Takeo, which is 50 miles from Phnom Penh.

Both Highway 2 and Highway 3, a parallel route to the south, have been cut since May by enemy troops who have made the area a major infiltration route to the Kiri Rom plateau, in the Elephant mountains to the west.

The operation to reopen Highway 2 was launched some time ago but was not announced until today. Some sources said it illustrates a change in the Cambodian command's thinking.

The emphasis now is going to be on small local operations to retake territory close to Phnom Penh, the sources said, instead of big-scale operations like the drive north of Phnom Penh that has been stalled for weeks at Taing Kauk, 47 miles north of the capital.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command reported there were no significant ground engagements involving American forces in the past 24 hours. A communique said field reports indicated no American troops were killed in ground fighting Sunday.

But the communique said a helicopter with three American crewmen was missing, presumably as the result of enemy fire. A spokesman would give no details, saying a search-and-rescue mission was under way and to disclose the location would jeopardize the search.

The U.S. Command also announced that American troop strength in Vietnam last week dropped to 378,900 men, the lowest in nearly four years. Another round of troop cutbacks already has begun, to reduce strength by another 40,000 to an authorized ceiling of 344,000 by the end of the year.

In Laos, pro-government forces captured a key position southwest of the Plain of Jars Sunday, improving their defensive posture for the coming dry season, the government said.

Ticket Sale to End Here on Tuesday

The all new edition of the Carson & Barnes Five Ring Wild Animal Circus is coming here on Wednesday, October 21, it was announced today by Dick Moore, president of the Hope Athletic Booster Club.

"Our organization is bringing America's Largest wild animal circus here to enable the children of our community to enjoy a traditionally wholesome form of unique American entertainment," Mr. Moore said, "Profits derived from sponsoring the circus will go towards our Athletic Fund," he continued.

"Our fund will benefit the greatest from the sale of advance tickets by our members. We receive up to 50 per cent of the proceeds from these tickets. In addition, patrons purchasing tickets in advance of circus day will save up to 50 cents on each ticket. We are certain that the people of Hope will back us 100 per cent in our organization's project," he added.

Hailed as bigger and better than ever, the Carson & Barnes Circus will feature scores of imported and domestic circus acts, traditional circus spectacles, liberty horses, llamas, camels and other breath taking acts climaxed by the world renowned Carson & Barnes performing elephants.

Performances on circus day will be at 4:30 and 8:00 p.m. with the doors open earlier to allow time for viewing the large wild animal menagerie before entering the Big Top.

Mr. Moore said advance tickets could be purchased at Citizens National Bank, The Diamond Cafe, First National Bank, Vic Massanelli's Grocery, Laha Cleaners, Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency or West Department Store, but they must be purchased by 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 20th in order to buy at this special price.

Burglar Hits Theater Here

Saenger Theater was broken into Sunday night and $38 taken from a filing cabinet, City Police reported Monday.

Officers said the burglar tried to break into the safe but was unsuccessful. The safe was badly damaged. Entrance to the theater was gained through a window next to an alley.

Nixon Keeps Up Search for Votes

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's hunt for votes sent him today to the region he calls the heartland, wooing the silent majority and offering a lower-key version of the law-and-order campaign theme hammered by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Urging Americans to "speak up with your votes" against obscenity, disruptive dissent and violence, Nixon's set an opening day itinerary of Columbus, Ohio, Grand Forks, N.D., and Kansas City, Mo.

All three are Senate campaign states.

The President campaigns in Johnson City, Tenn., Asheville, N.C., and Ft. Wayne, Ind., Tuesday before returning to the White House.

It is the second installment of a Nixon campaign expected to cover 18 to 20 states before election day.

Agnew has been on the campaign circuit for five weeks, drumming at the assertion that Republican victories will help counter lawlessness and turmoil on the campus and on the streets.

Nixon, speaking in generally softer tones than the explicit and hard-line approach of his vice president, keyed his own campaign Saturday, speaking in four states electing senators this year, declaring in Teterboro, N.J.:

"One vote is worth 100 obscene slogans."

In Lancaster, Pa., he accused Democrats of "permissiveness in high places" during their eight years in the White House.

In Burlington, Vt., he spoke of those who shout obscenities about America, engage in violence, kill and injure policemen.

"Let the majority of Americans speak up, speak up on Nov. 3, speak up with your votes," Nixon said. "That is the way to answer."

Nixon's first Midwestern stop in Ohio is designed to boost Rep. Robert Taft Jr., who seeks a Senate seat now Democratic.

Taft wasn't interested in having Agnew appear in Ohio, saying while it would help in some areas it would hurt in others. Instead, he wanted the man he is getting, the President.

In Grand Forks, Nixon's prestige is being injected into what is considered a closely contested Senate race between Republican Rep. Thomas Kleppe and Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, the Democratic incumbent.

Policeman Shot, Killed in Georgia

CORDELE, Ga. (AP) — A veteran policeman was shot and wounded fatally with his own pistol shortly after he arrested a Negro selling a Black Muslim newspaper without a license, police said.

Sgt. Hiram Watson, 45, was gunned down Sunday night in his patrol car while driving the man to the police station. Witnesses said they saw the arrested man, a pistol in his hand, jump from the patrol car and flee.

Authorities said the gunman, the object of a statewide police dragnet, was one of two Negroes who had been selling copies of an out-of-state newspaper, "The Muslim Program," in a black Cordele neighborhood.

Syria Cracks Down on Guerrillas

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syria's new military ruler is cracking down on the Palestinian guerrillas the previous Marxist regime sponsored, Arab diplomatic sources reported today.

The diplomats said Gen. Hafez Al-Assad of the air force, Syria's defense minister, has closed down the Damascus headquarters of the Saika guerrillas and asked the Central Committee of the Palestine Resistance Movement to suspend its membership.

Saika guerrillas returning to Syria from Jordan are being disarmed at the border and shipped off to detention areas in northern Syria, the sources said. They reported Assad has put Syria under military control, paralyzing the Baath Socialist party government.

Assad forced Dr. Nureddin Atassi to resign as president and premier of Syria on Saturday, and today Maj. Gen. Salah Jadid, Marxist leader of the Baath party, was reported to have fled the country, possibly to northern Lebanon.

Assad's coup is believed to have resulted from the Syrian invasion of Jordan during the civil war there last month. Assad opposed the intervention and refused to give it air cover; as a result, straggling Jordanian planes did heavy damage to the Syrian invaders. Assad reportedly uncovered a plot by Jadid to oust him and moved first.

Assad is 40, a staunch Arab nationalist, and has worked for closer cooperation among the Arab countries in the fight against Israel. He has the backing of the Egyptians and has tried to bring about better relations with Iraq, which is ruled by a rival wing of the Baath party.

Although local Baathist leaders rushed to Damascus from throughout Syria, trying to work out a compromise between military and civilian wings of the party, the Syrian capital was reported calm. Army tanks and armored vehicles have remained on their bases.

Meanwhile, Jordanian tanks and Palestinian guerrillas in northern Jordan battled Sunday for control of villages on the guerrillas' supply route from Syria. The guerrillas said 60 tanks shelled four villages between Ramtha and Irbid, 50 miles from the Jordanian capital of Amman, and that they replied with mortars, machine guns and rockets.

Guerrillas at Amrawa said the troops cut the road from Ramtha to Irbid in violation of the peace agreement signed last Tuesday by King Hussein and guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat.

Part of Real Estate Tax Resurrected

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court resurrected today a portion of the real estate transfer tax it struck down earlier this year.

The 4-3 decision would permit the state to continue collection of the tax, but the court stood by its earlier ruling that sections of the law that appropriate the money are invalid.

The court had held last June 15 that the entire law, Act 239 of 1969, was unconstitutional because the law made appropriations of the tax collections on a continuing basis in violation of the state Constitution.

The court held then that the appropriation section was not severable from the tax collection sections, but reversed itself on this point in today's decision.

The effect of the ruling is to permit the state Revenue Department to continue to collect the tax, which is levied at the rate of $1.50 for each $500 of value, but bar appropriation of the funds until the legislature takes further action to distribute the money.

A spokesman for the Revenue Department said today that the tax collections, started in August 1969, had totaled $2,187,564 through September of this year.

The department had invested through September of this year $2,108,360, all of it in U.S. government bonds, with earnings totaling $63,620 on the investments by the end of September 1970.

Four Killed on Arkansas Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four persons died in traffic accidents on the state's highways during the weekend.

Judy McDonald, 20, of Koutze, Tex., died Sunday when a tire blew out and caused her car to overturn on Interstate 40 near Forrest City. A passenger in the car, Karen Tyner, 22, of Vidor, Tex., was injured in the crash.

Edoth Mize, 57, of near Waldron was killed early Sunday when a car in which she was riding went out of control on Arkansas 10 in Danville and hit a bridge abutment.

Scottie Shirley, 27, of Delaplane (Greene County) was killed Saturday night when struck by a car on Arkansas 34 about 12 miles north of Walnut Ridge.

Fred Johnson, 50, of North Little Rock was killed Saturday when his car collided headon with a Continental Trailways bus on U.S. 70 near North Little Rock. State Police said Johnson had swerved to miss an animal crossing the highway. One passenger on the bus suffered minor injuries.

Liberation Front Run by Tough Breed

MONTREAL (AP) — The Quebec Liberation Front appeared on the French-Canadian scene in 1963 as a youth movement, but an older, tougher breed emerged in a few years.

Seven years ago, youthful advocates of independence for French Canada planted bombs on such "colonial symbols" as a statue of James Wolfe, the British general who captured Quebec in 1759, and red mail boxes with royal coats of arms lining the streets of prosperous Westmount, an English-speaking enclave in Montreal.

Soft Charge Not True, Says Bumpers

DES ARC, Ark. (AP)— Dale Bumpers, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, said Sunday night that assertions that he is "soft" on the proposed new constitution were not true. Speaking to about 200 persons at a fish fry near here, Bumpers declared that he had stated that he favors the proposed document. "If you want a 30-minute speech on why I'm for it, I could give you one," he said. The Democratic nominee also renewed his criticism of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for creating such a "crisis of confidence" in state government that "the people feel it is absolutely necessary that the governor's office be changed."

Bumpers said he had been making as many as 15 appearances a day because "I don't think a public relations staff is a substitute for meeting the people."

Undecided on Showing Truce Infraction

By LEWIS GULICK Associated Press Writer UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— The U.S. government has not decided whether to show the U.N. General Assembly evidence of Egyptian-Soviet violations of the Suez Canal cease-fire, U.S. officials said today.

The U.S. decision, they said, will be heavily influenced by how the debate shapes up when the General Assembly takes up the Middle East situation next Monday, right after the U.N.'s 25th anniversary observance.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers expects to take up the Middle East, Berlin and other questions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight, but Rogers has already received Gromyko's denial of Soviet involvement in the alleged violations.

On Sunday Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad denied new Soviet anti-aircraft missiles had been moved into the truce zone and said aerial photos which the United States contends prove otherwise "mean nothing and prove nothing."

Israel says it will not come to the proposed Arab-Israeli peace negotiations unless there is a missile rollback. Rogers wants enough "rectification" of the alleged violations to bring the Mideast foes back to the indirect negotiations.

In the U.S. view, Egypt—which asked for the U.N. debate—is trying with Soviet backing to relieve the onus of the violation charges and swing world opinion against the United States.

Riad, speaking on ABC's "Issues and Answers," took the line that Washington made the charges as a pretext to break a commitment not to ship new weapons to Israel.

Rogers says he has spent hours going over the U.S. photos—reportedly taken by U2 reconnaissance planes—"and the evidence is conclusive that they have moved missiles in."

Riad said missiles installed before the Aug. 8 cease-fire have been moved often for their security and photos therefore show what look like new ones. Such work as the sandbagging of missile sites also could look like new construction, he said.

Rogers after a four-hour session with Gromyko Friday night was said to have decided nothing could be gained then by showing evidence of the violations to the Soviet representative.

Tonight's dinner meeting at the American hotel suite is their last scheduled private get-together, during their attendance at the U.N. fall session.

said. "Who do you think will work the hardest? Who will be on the job? Who can get along with the legislature?"

Bumpers said that Rockefeller, after the 1967 session, told legislators, "You have given me the tools, now I'll do the job." Later Bumpers said, the governor blamed the legislature for some of his problems.

"The legislature believed he was more intent on building a party than on building the state," Bumpers said.

Earlier Sunday, Bumpers told a group of campaign workers at his Little Rock headquarters that the state should move toward providing "all of our five-year-olds with kindergartens."

He also said that every district in the state should offer special education classes.

On other issues, Bumpers said:

—He still had not heard from Rockefeller's campaign organization about a proposed debate on a challenge issued by Rockefeller and accepted by Bumpers.

—He does not want to see Arkansas AM&N College closed as a result of over spending at the school.

—He supports repeal of the fair-trade liquor law, because "It violates the principles of free enterprise."

FANCY SWITCHES TAKE SAME KIND OF WIRING

By MR. FIX

You can have light switches that are silent, switches that glow in the dark, switches that dim or brighten the light and even switches that consist of a single large button which you can hit with an elbow when your hands are full.

But the best thing about these fancy new switches is that they are installed just like the old push-button switches probably still in use in many homes.

The wiring is the same. All you do is replace the switch. Toggle switches work more easily than push-button switches. For absolute quiet the mercury switch eliminates that click that can sound so loud in the middle of the night. Remember one important feature about mercury switches—they must be installed straight and upright. Don't try to install one overhead, for example. The liquid mercury will close the circuit and keep it closed.

Some switches have neon lights built into the toggle, causing it to glow in the dark. There are switch plates with the same feature if you don't care to replace the switch.

When replacing a switch the most important thing to remember is to turn off the electricity. Throw the main switch that controls that circuit or remove the fuse. If you don't know which fuse to look for, turn on the light and then try removing fuses. When you have hit the right one the light will go out.

With the power off, remove the two screws that hold the covering switch plate in place. Set these aside carefully. Then remove the screws that hold the switch in the metal wall box.

Loosen the terminals (the brass screws that hold the wires) and remove the wires. Refasten the wires to the

Hijacker's Fate Up to Turk Cabinet

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The fate of the Lithuanian and his son who hijacked a Soviet airliner last week and killed the stewardess was in the hands of the Turkish cabinet today following a provincial court's refusal to indict them. It appeared likely that the government would send the case back to the courts.

All three judges of the court in Trabzon, where the airliner landed Thursday, agreed that the actions of Pranas Stasio Brazinskas and his son Algedas constituted a political crime. The Turkish criminal code says that a foreigner accused of foreign crimes with a political motive will not be brought to trial or extradited.

The court's action sent the case to the justice minister, who must decide whether to drop it as a political crime or instruct the public prosecutor to charge the pair with felonies. The latter course would return the case to the courts for the final decision.

The Soviet government has demanded the return of the pair, and a high-level official indicated the government would like to comply. But he said the government could not interfere with the workings of the court. Relations have been improving between the Turkish and Soviet governments in recent years, and Moscow recently agreed to a $300 million credit for industrial projects.

terminals of the new switch. Replace the switch in the box and put the cover plate back on.

When connecting wires to the terminal posts, wrap the wire around the post in a clockwise direction. This will prevent the wire from slipping off when the screw is tightened.

A light that is controlled from more than one point, as on a stairway, will have a special switch known as a three-way switch. If you replace one of these make sure that you get the right kind of switch. There will be three terminals instead of the usual two. Simply rewire as the old switch was connected.

Mrs. Nixon on Political Journey

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the President stumps for the GOP through six states today and Tuesday, Pat Nixon will be on a two-day political journey of her own.

First scheduled stop on her tour today was Detroit for a boost of Lenore Romney's lagging GOP campaign for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

She's trying to upset Democrat Philip A. Hart, an outspoken liberal in his two terms in the Senate. Election forecasters don't give the wealthy Mrs. Romney much of a chance.

The only woman running for the Senate this year, Mrs. Romney, whose husband, George, is Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, had hoped the President would make a personal appearance in her behalf. But Nixon sent his wife instead.

Besides Michigan, Mrs. Nixon's appearances were set for Republican Senate and gubernatorial candidates in Minnesota and in Nevada Tuesday.

The White House has announced the first lady also is making a one-day campaign trip later this week to St. Petersburg and Fort Myers, Fla.

11 to Trial in Black Panther Case

NEW YORK (AP) — A jury of 11 men and one woman today begins hearing the case of 13 Black Panthers accused of conspiring to murder policemen and bomb public places.

It is one year, six months and 17 days since the 13 were arrested. Nine of their number have spent the entire time in prison, unable to raise bail ranging up to $100,000 a person.

Defense attorneys, who have charged that the high bail amounts to preventive detention, call the trial "the most controversial case in town in 20 years."

State Supreme Court Justice John M. Murtagh, who has presided over the sometimes stormy months of pretrial hearings and six weeks of jury selection, says the case is simply "a criminal indictment."

This clash in philosophies dominated the jury selection phase and could well occur frequently during the trial.

Defense questioning of prospective jurors highlighted the philosophical differences. Their queries centered on the political and racial beliefs of each person examined—questions the prosecution often termed irrelevant.

The 12 jurors and four alternates selected are relatively whites wear their hair moderately young. Five are black, one is a Puerto Rican. Several of the

Too Cold, So Orchestra Quit

DALLAS (AP) — Just before the Dallas Symphony Orchestra was to begin its annual spectacular—a ballet and a rendition of the 1812 Overture—Sunday night in the Cotton Bowl, the musicians gathered their instruments and walked out.

"It was too cold," said a spokesman for the local musicians' union. He explained that a clause in the union contract with the orchestra states the musicians do not have to play when it is below 68 degrees. It was 58 at the time.

The 10,000 persons present did see a show—with the help of the 4th U.S. Army Band and a phonograph. The Army band had been on the bill as a supplement to the orchestra.

Man, Wife Face Charge of Burglary

CARLISLE, Ark. (AP) — Lonoke County officials said a Benton man and his wife will be charged with burglary following an incident near here Saturday night.

Police said the man, Robert V. Williams, 46, was arrested after State Trooper Bill Brashears of Lonoke put on a wig so that Williams would come out of the woods where he was thought to be hiding.

The incident began when John Zimmerman and his family returned to their home near here and found a man apparently burglarizing their home. The man escaped through a back window of the house and hid in the woods.

Zimmerman then began searching for the suspect. As he drove down a road near his home, he noticed a woman driving back and forth on the road. He informed police about his suspicions and the woman was taken into custody.

Brashears then donned a woman's wig and drove back to the scene. Zimmerman came out of the woods and Brashears arrested him.

Officials said Zimmerman and his wife, Ann, 29, will be charged with burglary.

SAVE 500 JOBS

The railroads are spending a fortune to repeal Arkansas' Full Crew Laws. Why? The eastern railroad interests want to cut their payrolls by furloughing (cutting-off) 500 railroad men. These Full Crew Laws belong to YOU — the people of Arkansas — not to the Railroads. The railroads promise one thing, but the facts prove another — 500 men responsible for the safety of trains operating in Arkansas will no longer be used if your Full Crew Laws are repealed.

Letters To The Editor

This your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

EXPENSIVE MELON

(Editor's Note: Tom Impson of Tom's DX Station at Third and Hazel, sent a large Hope Watermelon to P. J. Sandridge, president of Security Tire & Rubber Co., Inc. of Richmond, Va. Here's the reply he received.)

Dear Tom: I just want you to know that the Jolly Green Giant arrived, and no doubt this whole event will have a decided effect on the financial structure of Tom's DX, Security Tire & Rubber Company, and the Continental Trailways.

First it was necessary to hire additional personnel to lift the little fellow. We rented a crane to load it on our dock. Two men strained their backs trying to get it to my office. Now, this is just the beginning. We tried putting it in an oil drum to cool it, but got it stuck and had to rent a torch to cut the drum and get it out. We then thought about putting it down in a bathtub; but when we had a bathtub except the girls that work here, and they just refused to take a bath in a bathtub of watermelon and ice. (The) they even refused to let us in their bathrooms at all.

We finally appealed to a meat packer friend of mine to let us put it in his walk in meat cooler, and we thought we had everything solved, until this morning when McSweeney of McSweeney's Weenies called and said the heat from the melon had spoiled 238 lbs. of weenies. Now to top it all off, Dick Dale of the office all excited about having a company picnic, "we can eat it up—and you know what this means?" Since the weenies are spoiled, they will probably want ham or steak, and who can eat ham or steak without a few todies before so much another expense.

The second of a series of three programs on drug abuse was held this week in the court room of Hempstead County Court House with Jim Williams, Probation Officer for Juveniles, of Texarkana, Arkansas, and State Police Sgt. Duke Atkinson, of the Governor's Council on Narcotics and Drug Abuse, Little Rock as the leaders of the conference.

Mr. Williams stated that on checking the Texarkana records no arrests were recorded for juvenile drug abuse prior to June of this year but that in July and August six arrests were made on marijuana charges. He also reported on an actual case before him which is somewhat typical. The youngster, a boy, started sniffing glue at the age of fourteen, progressed to sniffing lacquer, using "speed", freon, marijuana, and LSD, and at eighteen is "hooked" on drugs. He is now in the process of rehabilitation and hopefully will be able to lick his problem.

Sgt. Atkinson reported that prior to 1963 there were less than one dozen recorded arrests for drug abuse, but that in 1969 alone there were 359 recorded arrests in a given area. He stated that his department knew of no school system in the state of Arkansas, above the elementary level, that didn't have some problem with drug abuse.

Sgt. Atkinson displayed samples of various drugs and described briefly their effect upon the human system. He went into more detail concerning marijuana and LSD, stating that marijuana was a most controversial subject simply item. We had to hire an accounting firm to figure out the exact cost per pound, and they have come up with a cost of approximately $2.13 and one third per pound. This does not include the bus charges nor the cost of this little jewel.

Now for the good news. We have formed a syndicate to sell the seeds next spring, and we are offering shares at $1.00 per share, so since you're in so deep now why not subscribe for enough shares for you to have control—buy most of your own seeds—buy a farm in Virginia, and put all these little seeds to work next year and eliminate all problems. Okay? Sincerely, because not enough is known about its long range effects. He drew a comparison between the use of alcohol and marijuana, stating that a person would take a social drink or drink because he liked the taste, but not usually to get drunk, whereas the "grass" user took or used marijuana with the definite purpose of "getting high or taking a trip".

"LSD", he said, "produces a personality change. Forty percent of those using LSD for the first time experience a definite and usually damaging personality change and are usually subject to flashbacks even after discontinuing the use of the drug for periods up to 21 years."

The third of this series of educational programs sponsored by Hope Kiwanis Club will be presented in the court room of Hempstead County Court House on Tuesday evening, October 20th at 7:30 and will feature Dr. James E. Dusenberry, associated with the U of A Medical Center's School of Pharmacy in Little Rock, and the Chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Drug Abuse.

Featured in Publishers' Auxiliary

(Editor's Note: This story appeared in the Sept. 19 issue of Publishers' Auxiliary, a national newspaper devoted to the newspaper business. The subject of the "editor of the week" feature is George S. Smith, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Andres of Emmet Rt. 1)

"At 25, George S. Smith is one of the youngest editors in Arkansas."

"His award-winning newspaper, The Baxter Bulletin in Mountain Home, is one of the largest weeklies in the state with a circulation of about 8,000."

"As editor he writes most of the editorials, does all the copy editing, and supervises the makeup. He also writes hard news, takes many of the pictures, writes feature stories, and turns out a weekly humorous column."

"He says he was first hit with newspaper fever when a letter he wrote was published in his college paper."

"When I saw my name in print, it was like a bright light," he said. He has been in the newspaper business ever since. "Smith thinks the opportunities journalism offers are limitless. "In this business, ability speaks loud, and rewards, both concrete and abstract, are available for those who assert themselves," he said. "The young editor has already held numerous positions in the newspaper business. He has been news editor for both the Daingerfield (Tex.) News and the Commerce (Tex.) Journal; he was a photographer for East Texas State University in Commerce and a photographer and feature writer for the Naples (Tex.) Monitor. In February, 1968 he came to work for the Bulletin as a reporter-photographer. "Many of Smith's photos have appeared in other newspapers and magazines. The Bulletin was awarded second place in local features and best use of local pictures in the Arkansas Press Association's contest this year. "A few years ago Smith earned himself a reputation in the business as a speedy reporter. The Associated Press said he was "the first reporter ever to beat the fire truck to a fire twice." "Smith said it happened when he was news editor of the Daingerfield News: "One day when I was on my way to work, I spotted a house on fire. It so happened that my camera was at the office, so I pulled up at the house, knocked on the door, and informed the man who answered that his house was on fire. He was surprised, but said he would call the fire department. By then flames were licking out of a window. "I jumped in my car and roared off. I drove by the fire department, stopped to see if anyone was about, and heard the telephone ring. I hopped out of the car, answered the phone. "Quick!" a man said, "My house is on fire." It was the same man, the same house, the same fire. I rang the alarm, drove my car to the office, picked up my camera and beat the fire truck back to the house." "Not everything on Smith's beat happens like that, but he considers it all a "challenging assignment." "You cover all aspects of the news on a weekly paper, from murders to weddings to births to obits," he explained. "Smith is proud of his paper, and generally proud to be a journalist. He suggested that experts who call for an end to the slanting of the news would do well to take a look at their own bias. "I am in favor of an end to the

AIRPORT TO PIANO
NEW YORK (AP) — A television special about pianist Arthur Rubinstein is being repeated April 26 in the late afternoon. On the special, Rubinstein says that when he arrives in a city in which he is to give a concert, he goes directly from the airport to the concert hall, to check on the piano. "A good piano," he says, "is more important than a good bed." Rubinstein says, "I like the piano to have a heavy touch, but hold the sound long. Every player slanting of the news, not only by the news media but by the critics," he said.
